MOTORMAN IS EXONERATED BY CORONER'S JURY

With Deputy Sheriff Julius Asch presiding the coroner's jury yesterday morning returned a verdict of accidental death in the case of Hoi Ise, Japanese, who was run down and killed by a street car at Manoa last Friday afternoon.

Frank Hill, the Rapid Transit motorman, was the main witness. He said that while operating his car on the Oahu avenue line last Friday he saw a wagon filled with grass going directly ahead of him. He said he kept on sounding his horn when he first observed the wagon at a distance of 300 feet. As he approached the wagon, he slowed down considerably. The driver of the wagon, who was apparently Ise, swung his team away from the street car, and while so doing, the horses became frightened, ran back onto the track and the wagon was hit by the street car.

Hill said that had he brought his car to a full stop the collision could have been prevented. The car struck the left front wheel of the wagon, according to Hill, but women witnesses said that it was the rear wheel.

E. E. Youtz, of the Kamehameha schools, testified that he heard the bell sounded by the motorman as it approached the wagon, and that before the collision occurred the car was moving slowly.

PHONE EXCHANGE FOR KALIHI, PLAN

Construction of a new sub-exchange on Kalihi road is being planned by the Mutual Telephone Co., and the company has asked the board of supervisors to approve the location and other details. The supervisors will probably consider the matter at a meeting tonight.

The company will extend its system into Kalihi and will connect the sub-exchange with the main office by an underground system. The material for the work has already arrived, and the company says it is anxious to begin construction at once.

PUNAHOU STARTS WORK ON REGISTRATION FOR COMING YEAR THURSDAY

Punahou is attempting to anticipate this year the questions which the unusually large registration last year brought to the school. So many new students registered at the last minute, in 1916, that it was necessary to secure quickly several new teachers. This year President A. F. Griffiths, who has just returned from a year's leave of absence in the East, is planning to begin office hours for himself and the principals of all the schools on Thursday morning.

Principals Charles T. Fitts and Mary P. Winne at the preparatory school, and Principal Ernest T. Chase at the academy, will be in their offices each morning beginning Thursday, from 10 to 12 o'clock, to receive the registration and arrange the courses of new students, and to settle any questions that may have arisen in regard to old students.

MANY ARTICLES OF VALUE FOR TRINKET FUND

Many valuable trinkets and heirlooms have been collected and sent in to Miss Minnie Todd of the Hawaiian News Co. for the trinket and treasure fund which is being formed for the benefit of American Red Cross.

Among some of the trinkets Miss Todd received was an old and antique solid gold shaving cup worth $50, designed by Tiffany of New York. Other trinkets include several gloves holders worth $5, bracelets worth $15, an old purse with 50 pennies, solid gold thimbles worth $20, solid silver calling card cases valued at $10, silver salt holders worth $5, a very old knife that has gone through a fire, a pair of silver scissors valued at $10, several pairs of old earrings and many other valuable articles. The trinkets will be sent to the Red Cross headquarters in New York where they will be sold.

KING CANDY

Candy has become a staple and wholesome article of food if eaten in moderation. Most people have a "sweet tooth" or a great fondness for it. The value of chocolate candy as a food has been recognized by the military authorities in Europe.

In the home, at the office and everywhere, a box of LEHNHARDT'S ASSORTED or CHEWING CHOCOLATES should always be available to satisfy that hungry feeling and craving for something sweet.

Pick up a box of chocolates on your way home or telephone an order for delivery. HENRY MAY & CO., LTD., Phone 1-2-7-1 will serve you.—Adv.

ATTORNEY E. E. COOK WILL STUDY LAW IN INDIANA UNIVERSITY

Earl E. Cook, who has been practicing law in the police court, will leave for the states to complete his study of law in the Valparaiso University. He will sail in the Wilhelmina this afternoon.

Mr. Cook until recently was in the law offices of Attorney E. J. Botts. But realizing that it would be to his advantage to study law on the mainland, he immediately wrote to the president of the Valparaiso University for admittance at the commencement of school in September.

Cook was clerk in the office of City and County Clerk David Kalanika, before he was admitted to practice law in the district courts of the territory.

PINE CULTURE EXPERIMENTS HELD ON MAUI

Interesting information regarding experiments and demonstrations in pineapple culture is contained in a report sent to the territorial food commission by F. G. Krauss, agent for the commission on the island of Maui.

"After a year's careful planning," says Mr. Krauss' report, "the Hawaii agricultural experiment station, through its extension division at Haku, has worked out an extensive project which has for its purpose the demonstration of the best established practices of pineapple culture. Likewise there has been planned a series of field experiments supplementing those being carried on in the laboratories which aim to shed light on the more obscure causes for the serious losses sustained by the pineapple growers in recent years."

"Some 10 acres on the old Patterson homestead near Haku, which is advantageously adapted to the project, have been set aside and the work is already under way. Some of the most important phases of the work, which consist of culture, draining, fertilization, green manuring, types of plants, methods of planting, time of planting and other equally important factors, are being considered. This project promises to become one of the most important ones so far undertaken by the extension division."

DELEGATE IN SENDING IMPORTANT BULLETINS TO FOOD COMMISSION

Jonah Kuhio Kalaniana'ole, delegate to Congress, is taking a keen interest in the work being done by the territorial food commission.

In a letter received by the commission from the delegate in the last mail, he says he has forwarded to Honolulu 10,000 copies of Farmers' Bulletin No. 858, covering "home canning of fruits and vegetables," which the delegates says, "I believe you can distribute among the people of the islands to good advantage, and thus aid your commission in the carrying out of your propaganda looking to the conservation of the food supply of the territory."

Delegate Kuhio also says he is sending several thousand franked envelopes in which to place the bulletins for mailing to the different parts of the territory.

LASKINE NOT HUN SPY, MERELY BIG NUISANCE, SAYS LOCAL HOTEL MAN

That Boris de Laskine, who posed her as a Russian diplomat and was arrested in San Francisco as an alleged German spy, was a spy is doubted by officials of the Young hotel who had occasion to come in contact with him many times.

"He did not have enough sense to be a 'spy,'" said one of the hotel men, "he was nothing less than a nuisance around here. He pestered us with questions and would ask the price of every little ride while here. It was how much this and how much that until I used to try to get behind the desk when I saw him coming."

While de Laskine was here he made few trips, and from all appearances did not spend much money.

The hotel man believes that the reason for his arrest was his uncalculated protest against paying duty on his baggage in this port.

LABOR COMES FORWARD FOR RICE PLANTING

Kauai Planters Give Land Rent Free and Guarantee Price of $5 Per Bag

Without waiting for action by the committee on labor of the territorial food commission, Japanese, Chinese and Filipinos on Kauai have come forward and offered to plant to rice the 435 additional acres soon to become available for this purpose on the Garden Island.

This is the report brought to Honolulu by A. Hebard Case, agent for the commission on Kauai, who says he has made arrangements whereby the available land will be given free of rent and whereby dealers will pay the growers not less than $5 a sack for their rice.

Mr. Case says that a joint committee of the Kauai Chamber of Commerce, Planters' association and board of supervisors sent out a circular letter to owners of taro and rice lands requesting them to make a complete report on the area of land held by them and the acreage under cultivation. They were also requested to make propositions tending to induce rice planters to take up some of the uncultivated lands.

"This a good many of them did," says Mr. Case, "and some made the offer of lands rent free. The Kauai Planters' association has made a definite guaranty of $5 per bag of rice produced so as to encourage the planting of rice, and also give the planter some assurance of a return for the time and labor involved in bringing the crop to maturity. To date it has been unnecessary to make use of this proposition because of the present high price of rice."

"The 435 acres of new rice lands available for the 1918 crop were considered to be impossible to be planted because of the shortage of labor. These laborers receive a wage of $30 a month and board, this board I found to be on the average of $14 a month per man."

It seems that the rice grower should receive a fair margin of profit since, in the past, he was almost forced out of the business due to the extremely low price. Even at $6 a bag of rice the profit is very small compared with the price received from sugar cane."

While touring in the different great cities of China last year, and it was after many difficulties that these two pieces of art were procured.

One of them is an old Chinese mandarin bed of famous Fook Chan lacquer. The front part of the bed is wonderfully carved by a Chinese artist about 175 years ago, and it is painted with several kinds of Chinese gold which will last for centuries, and the other piece is an old Chinese five-color porcelain vase, five feet in height. This is the largest vase that was ever brought to Honolulu.

W. C. AVERY COMES TO TAKE POSITION HERE AS SCHOOL INSPECTOR

W. C. Avery, former principal of the Kaula high school, has arrived in Honolulu to take the position of inspector-general of the public schools of the territory, succeeding George S. Raymond, who has been appointed supervising principal of the Maui schools.

Mr. Avery will be inspector-general until January 1, when he will become department statistician, a position created by the 1917 legislature.

The representatives of the Maui, Kaula and McKinley high schools held a conference this morning and discussed the course of study and school administration. Those present were Principals W. S. Beeman of Maui, William McCluskey of Kaula, Paul MacCaughy of McKinley high school and Mr. Avery.

Mr. McCluskey has been appointed principal of the Kaula high school to succeed Mr. Avery. Mr. Raymond has gone to Maui.

MISS HELEN SPALDING PUNAHOU'S NEW MATRON

Punahou is making another step forward in having Miss Helen C. Spaulding as matron. Miss Spaulding comes with special training and experience for this position. She is a graduate of Simmons college in the course in household arts and has had experience in institutions which prepares her for the kind of work which she will have at Punahou. By her pleasant personality she is sure to make a place in the campus life at Punahou.
